It's such an action-packed week in the soaps this issue, we can hardly keep up!

I've been gripped by the twisty-turny saga of Emmerdale's Lachlan and Rebecca, and although we now know Rebecca's alive and well (or alive and highly medicated, to be more accurate!), those twists and turns just keep getting more twisty and turny. Turn to p22 for all the latest drama!

Elsewhere, we all had an inkling that Jim's return to Corrie wasn't quite on the level, and we're about to discover just how twisted his plan is – see p24 for an update on that. Over in Walford, Hayley is getting comfy at the Slaters' after a distinctly rocky start, but her feet are about to be pulled from under that table with an almighty yank. Yes, Alfie's coming back – and would you want to be in Hayley's shoes when Kat discovers the little surprise that her hubby and cousin have accidentally cooked up for her?

Mick JAILED for shooting Stuart!

THE BAD BOY IS AWAKE - AND
POINTING THE FINGER...

Evil Stuart is out of his coma - and in the mood
to cause more trouble

Linda plants a kiss on her husband – but is Mick heading to jail?

The moment of truth arrives for the Carter family this week, when Stuart wakes from his coma – and names Mick as the person who shot him!

After word gets back to the Queen Vic, Mick and Linda are confronted with the decision of whether or not to make a run for it. But time isn't on their side – and the pub is soon swarming with police...

"Mick is a popular character that a lot of people love, so I'm expecting a big reaction from the viewers when he's carted off to prison!" exclaims Ricky Champ, who plays twisted Stuart. "I think this is going to underpin Stuart's status as a villain and a horrible person, who has been hell-bent on destroying the Carters."

"Stuart really comes into his own as a victim!"

After battling to save his life, Stuart's doctors announce they will try to bring him round from his sedation. With Linda having already faced a grilling from the police, the overwhelming feeling at the Vic is one of relief, as the Carters expect that Stuart will tell detectives what happened on the night of the shooting. However, Shirley remains adamant that Dylan is responsible, and hatches a plan to prove her suspicions. Will it pay off?

Meanwhile, Stuart opens his eyes after escaping the jaws of death.

"There is a brief moment of relief and purity as Stuart realises that he's alive – and then he's straight back on the horse, blaming Mick!" reveals Ricky. "He really comes into his own and flourishes as a victim – as though being in hospital and recovering from a gunshot wound is pure bliss for him. He revels in it."

FROM PREVIOUS PAGE

With the dramatic shooting having taken place off screen, EastEnders viewers only have Stuart's word that Mick is the guilty party. Given the amount of lies that the nasty bloke has told in the past, though, is it fair to assume he's telling a whopping, great big lie?

"There is always a chance where Stuart is concerned," grins Ricky. "He fibs so well and so often that even he has trouble finding the real truth sometimes. Every time something major happens, another piece of him is stripped away and it's harder for him to recover – not just physically, but mentally too. Having said that, Stuart could well be telling the truth about Mick this time – so you'll just have to wait and see..."

Either way, it's clear Stuart took an extremely big risk by going to the Queen Vic armed with a gun that night!

"The fact that Stuart doesn't have much regard for his own safety is what makes him such a dangerous character," points out Ricky, who joined the show in May. "It doesn't matter what you do to him, he gets back up and comes at you again."

Linda is so outraged after Mick is marched off by the police that she storms into Stuart's hospital room and brands him a liar! However, as the thug gives a full statement to the police and confirms the Vic landlord as his attacker, the Carter clan's worst fears are brought to life. With Mick in prison awaiting his bail hearing – and his fate in the hands of an inexperienced solicitor – is the troubled family more vulnerable than ever?

"I always thought Stuart's plan was to punish Mick, but actually I reckon that Stuart just wants everything that Mick has," offers Ricky as a parting shot. "With Mick out of the way behind bars, Linda, his family, and his livelihood could be at risk..."

Laura-Jayne Tyler

"I thought that Stuart was a goner!"

Ricky recalls the moment he found out that his character would be shot...

Worlds away from his menacing EastEnders alter ego, Ricky is a very happy-go-lucky and fun-loving soul as he takes us behind the scenes of Stuart's shooting...

Gosh, Ricky! Is it really exciting to be part of a Walford 'whodunnit'?

Oh yes, as there have been some brilliant ones in the past. It's really cemented the idea that I'm part of a golden lineage of EastEnders villainy!

What did you think when you found out that Stuart was going to be shot?

I've known for a while – and to be honest with you, I thought that was going to be it for him. When I saw in the script that

DADDY'S GIRL!

Stuart's daughter aids Mick's arrest...

If Stuart pointing the finger at Mick wasn't enough to seal his fate, the investigating officers are also very keen to hear from his daughter, Zara – who backs up her father's story after he accuses Mick of having a motive for attempted murder.

"Obviously we know that their relationship has been quite fractious in the past – but I think that Stuart is going to use his time at the hospital to play the victim and try to get his daughter back onside," Ricky tells us. "There is a possibility that she will become another pawn in his devious games, though by no means is Zara completely innocent. She is her father's daughter, after all!"

Stuart would survive, my reaction was, "Thank God"!

Do you know who shot Stuart – and will there be a big reveal episode?

This is way into the future, but there is going to be a reveal – and it will be big!

What was it like filming the shooting itself?

It was tough going to those dark places, as I'm not like that at all. At the start of filming I thought, 'Ooh, I'll "die" in this position – it'll look great!' But then after a day on a cold floor with gallons of sticky blood around everywhere, it felt surreal.

I can remember breathing towards Stuart's near death for about three minutes in a silent studio, and that was really strange!

Even though Stuart was shot, it still feels as if he is the baddy of the piece. Do you reckon there can be any redemption for him?

The more stuff he does, the harder it is to see a road back.

The man is broken, and I'm not sure that you can fix him.

It must be exhausting playing Stuart – it sounds as though you're due a decent holiday after playing out his dramas!

Ha ha, yes! I think my wife wants to get a cottage in the Lake District for us and our baby daughter, so we can sit by the fire and drink wine. That would be lovely!

And hopefully we have a bit more of Stuart to enjoy for a while...

Fingers crossed! When I win the Best Bad Boy trophy at the Inside Soap Awards, it'll cement my time in the show, won't it? I'll expect a call from you lot soon... [laughs]

It's all fun and games until Ross begins to suffer chest pains...

...will he recover from the incident to care for little Moses?

EMMERDALE | ITV THURSDAY

Ross' shock collapse!

FATHER AND SON ARE BOTH IN PERIL...

Drugged-up Ross collapses while out with little son Moses this week, leaving the toddler to wander off entirely alone.

After spending the past few weeks regularly taking cocaine, Ross is in a state and scaring the people around him. Pals Tracy and Ryan both beg him to stop doing drugs, fearing he could die. But having begun using the substance to help manage his mental torment, acid-attack victim Ross won't heed their warnings. That's until he suddenly drops to the floor clutching his chest while playing football with Moses.

"If Ross survives to realise the terrible consequences of this collapse, it could be his worst nightmare," says our Dales source.

"Moses is tiny, and is wandering the Dales alone, where he could come to serious harm. It's not just the risk that someone might snatch him, it's also that the river and woods are nearby. Ross could be responsible for them both getting very badly hurt."

Tracy tries to talk sense into Ross earlier in the week as she can see he's unwell, while Moira agrees to find some jobs for

Ross is in no fit state to be caring for his young son

"Moses is wandering alone – he could come to serious harm..."

Ross' real-life alter ego Michael Parr plans for life after Emmerdale...

Village favourite Michael Parr has played hard man Ross Barton for half a decade – though with his Dales departure imminent, the star is getting ready for the unknown...

"The world's my oyster, and I'm ready to go!" he shares. "I need to keep my foot in the door, so I'll be sending letters and auditioning. For the past five years, I've watched my bank balance go up and up, and now for the first time in a while I won't have a job – and I'll watch it go down!"

While we're sure talented Mike won't be short of offers, it's clear that the actor is someone who'll need to be kept busy in the interim.

"I'll freak out!" he admits. "I'll be that guy in the gym all the time. I can't sit still. I can't go on holiday. I have to be busy!"

him at the farm so that he can start earning – much to Cain's chagrin. What Moira doesn't know, however, is that Ross only wants cash so he can buy more coke. Ryan begs him to think about what he's doing, but despite swearing that he's done with drugs, Ross is soon off his head again. The next day, things go from bad to much worse when he's in sole charge of his little'un Moses, and takes more drugs to try to cope with the comedown.

"Ross has been spiralling out of control for ages – this should be the moment that he realises he's got to get a grip," whispers our insider. "He better pray that someone finds him and Moses before it's too late, although Charity will probably kill him if the collapse doesn't. Nobody is disputing the fact that Ross has had it tough lately – but there's no excuse for dragging Moses down with him."

Will Ross manage to regain consciousness, or will Moses be relying on a passerby to help him and his daddy?

Will Sally go to jail?

IT ALL GOES WRONG AS SHE HEADS TO COURT...

CORONATION STREET | ITV FRIDAY

The former mayor of Weatherfield could end up jailed this week, as she appears in court charged with fraud!

Poor Sal is preparing for her pre-trial hearing, knowing full well that she's an innocent woman. But she'll have her work cut out for her trying to prove that, especially after she sacks her lawyer Paula – having caught her in a steamy embrace with Sophie!

“Sally’s innocent, and she’s convinced she doesn’t need Paula!” declares Sally Dynevor, who plays the disgraced lady. “In Sal’s opinion, Paula doesn’t know what she’s doing anyway as she has her mind on something else – Sophie! These are the two people who Sally trusted more than anyone, the two people she thought she could rely on.”

As the week kicks off, Sally thinks she has the upper hand when she finds a list of names that Imran has dropped in the café – and discovers that it’s a list of witnesses for the hearing! But having exposed Imran as a love cheat (see p18) and feeling pretty smug with herself, Sally is in for a rude awakening. After she goes looking for Sophie for some moral support, Sal is stunned to walk in on her and Paula in a compromising position!

“She is really angry on lots of levels,” admits Sally. “She feels Paula hasn’t been truthful to her, and that she hasn’t been pulling her weight in the case! Sally reckons she’s been duped by someone yet again.

“There is this wild scene where they have this huge argument,” she adds. “Sally is livid, and sacks Paula on the spot. That’s when she says she will represent herself.”

Determined to forge ahead with the hearing alone, Sal makes another mistake – by contacting one of the witnesses on Imran’s list!

“She finds out that Judith Fisher, who she worked with, has given a statement,” explains Sally. “Sally doesn’t see anything wrong in just ringing her up and speaking to her as a friend. She doesn't know anything about crime or procedures, she just knows she's innocent. Yet the call ends in a row, and Judith puts the phone down – then tells her lawyers that Sally was harassing her!"

As the day of the hearing arrives, Sally's fired up, confident that she'll be home with her family by the end of the day. However, can she keep a cool head in court?

"Of course not!" chuckles Sally. "Things go from bad to worse. Imran is very good at what he does, and he's far better than someone who's not a trained solicitor. Sally finds herself in the worst possible predicament, and she messes up completely by getting very personal about Imran."

As Sally's fate hangs in the balance, we're sure she's regretting letting Paula go! But is her petty behaviour about to cost Sally her freedom?

Sarah Ellis

Top DOG!

Sally reckons her alter ego can handle jail...

While being banged up may be the ex-mayor's worst nightmare, star Sally would love to see a Bad Girls-style plot unfold on screen...

"I'm excited about seeing her out of her comfort zone, and how it will affect her," she grins. "She will no doubt make enemies, but she'll want to make a difference. Sally will never sit back and do nothing! She will try to make something good come out of the worst-possible scenario.

"I'm enjoying this story so much," adds Sally. "This might be one of my favourite storylines during my time here!"

Angie has been manipulated by liar Jude

CORONATION STREET

JUDE ATTACKS MARY!

Mother and son will come to blows...

The Street is to be rocked by domestic violence this autumn when Jude snaps and lashes out at his mother, Mary!

Reports claim that the Weatherfield favourite will confront her son after she finds out that he has been lying again. But as the pair start to argue, a shocking altercation unfolds...

"When Jude is exposed as a pathological liar, Mary challenges him and tries to get to the bottom of why he does it," whispers our Corrie source. "As she tries to find out some answers, he gets physical with her and leaves her feeling absolutely petrified."

Compulsive fibber Jude came unstuck after his wife Angie learned that he had fabricated his entire career. Since then the desperate fella has been pulling out all the stops to win her back – even arranging a ceremony for the couple to renew their wedding vows, that poor Angie knew nothing about!

However, it was the events that followed the sham service that really sealed Jude's reputation for telling fibs, when he let the entire community believe that he had saved Roy's life. But while Jude uses his pretend heroics to worm his way back into Angie's affections, it'll be Mary who eventually sees his true colours...

"Mary will confide in Roy about how scared she is of Jude, fearing that he has inherited his father's violent streak," reveals our sneak. "Roy tries to support her and insists that she comes clean about what Jude is really capable of, for all their sakes."

However, with Mary having finally established a relationship with her son after so many years apart, it remains to be seen whether she will bring herself to expose his behaviour.

Will Mary choose to suffer in silence? And if that should be her decision, does she risk making the biggest mistake of her life if Jude's attack isn't a one-off?

“I CAN FINALLY STOP LYING TO EVERYONE!”

Emily Head reflects on the best kept secret in soap this summer...

Rebbecca White proved that she has more lives than a cat when Lachlan revealed that he hadn't killed his aunt after all! It turns out that Rebecca has been secretly guarded by a nurse all along – so star Emily Head had her work cut out pretending to be dead for all these weeks...

“It's been really difficult!” exclaims the star who, in real life, has been visiting family and friends in Kent while Rebecca has been locked up. “Everyone who recognises me from the show kept asking me, ‘Is Rebecca dead or alive?’ They try to push you on it!

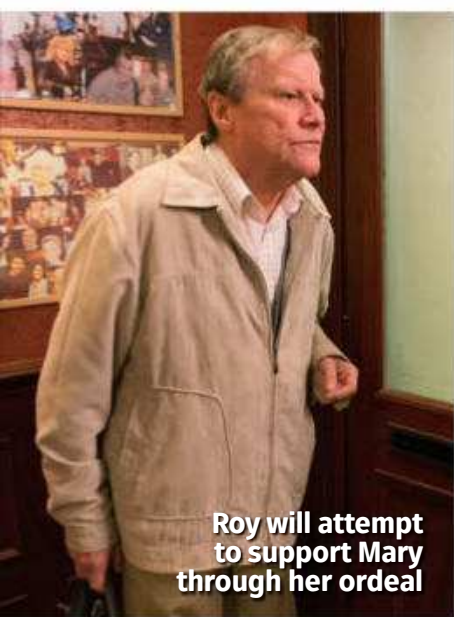

“Anytime that I came into work, I tried to make sure that no one saw me entering the building, so as not to give the game away,” adds Emily. “If I took a taxi into work, I had to fib and say I was just going in for an interview. The last couple of weeks have been especially hard trying to keep it under wraps, so I'm very happy that it has finally aired and I can stop lying to everyone!”

However, Rebecca being seen alive is certainly not the end of the story (see p22 for the new peril that awaits her). If by some miracle she makes it back to the village in one piece – and trust us, it doesn't look good at the moment – does she still have anything left to live for?

“Absolutely – her son, Seb!” cries Emily. “All she could ever hope for is to see and hold him again. He is the one person that she is most desperate to see.”

Whether Rebecca gets her wish or not remains to be seen...

THE END FOR JOSH

He's due to bow out of Weatherfield...

CORONATION STREET

David's harrowing rape story is building towards its conclusion, says Corrie actor Ryan Clayton. The star – who plays abuser Josh – has teased his inevitable exit from the cobbles...

"It's crucial that we give the storyline the right ending," stresses Ryan. "The main thing is that the story concludes when David has peace of mind – that's the most important aspect."

Ryan is staying tight-lipped on how David might find closure from his ordeal, so we'll have to wait and see how events play out.

Since going blind as a result of vicar Billy warning a potential rape victim what Josh is capable of, the haunted fella has shown an interest in seeking forgiveness through prayer.

Meanwhile, Ryan has expressed a desire of his own, to pursue comedy roles after playing a character as evil as Josh – but admits to feeling sad that his time on the Street is finite.

"I guess when you're playing a villain, that's always going to be the case," concedes Ryan. "But it's also nice to come in, make an impact and then go. When you look at villains from over the years, they are often the most memorable characters – and that's a great thing to be part of."

Josh has seemingly turned over a new leaf, thanks to Billy

Will David ever be able to get over what Josh did to him?

The battle for Dee Dee!

TEGAN SEEKS LEGAL ADVICE IN A BID TO STOP THE YOUNGSTER'S TREATMENT...

HOLLYOAKS | Channel 4 THURSDAY

Worried mum Diane suffers another devastating blow this week, when doctors tell her that Dee Dee's treatment isn't working – and they want to try the little'un on chemotherapy.

But while Diane is willing to do anything to save her little girl's life, Dee Dee's biological mum Tegan isn't so sure that chemo is the right way to go – and seeks legal advice so she can finally get a say in her daughter's treatment!

"Tegan wants to know what her rights are!" declares Jess Ellis, who plays the heartbroken mother. "She's sick of people going, 'Poor Tony and Diane', because she's going through this as well. She's desperate, as she feels Diane is shutting her out. She needs to know where she stands legally."

Things have been tough for Dee Dee's loved ones since the youngster was diagnosed with a life-threatening brain condition. Yet it's not just parents Tony and Diane who are worried – Tegan is also scared of losing Dee Dee, who was switched at birth with her daughter, Rose.

It's a complicated situation, which is made worse by the fact that Dee Dee fails to recognise Tegan when she visits her in hospital this week.

"Filming that scene was hard," admits Jess. "When she doesn't recognise her, it's a horrible feeling for Tegan. Diane explains that it's just part of the illness, it's something that happens. Though because of the situation, Tegan really takes it to heart."

After doctors suggest the idea of chemotherapy, Diane is on board. However, as a medical professional, Tegan isn't so sure it's the right course of action.

"Tegan's a nurse, but also she's been through chemo herself," Jess reminds us. "She knows how it feels, and she doesn't want Dee Dee to go down that road. This might be last chance saloon for Dee Dee, and Tegan doesn't want the time she has left to be really unbearable and horrible."

Tegan doesn't want Dee Dee to go down the road of chemo..."

WHERE'S TONY?

As Dee Dee's condition worsens, her dad is still missing...

As Diane deals with Dee Dee's treatment this week, she must do so alone – as hubby Tony is still AWOL.

The frazzled dad walked out weeks ago, unable to cope with the thought of losing yet another daughter. With so much else on her mind, Diane has given up searching for him, instead focussing all her attention on her sick little girl. But with Dee Dee's condition worsening by the day, Ste decides that Tony needs to be tracked down!

After posting messages on social media, Ste is given hope when he receives a message from someone claiming to be Tony. So could the missing father be coming home soon?

She'd rather they just made the best of it."

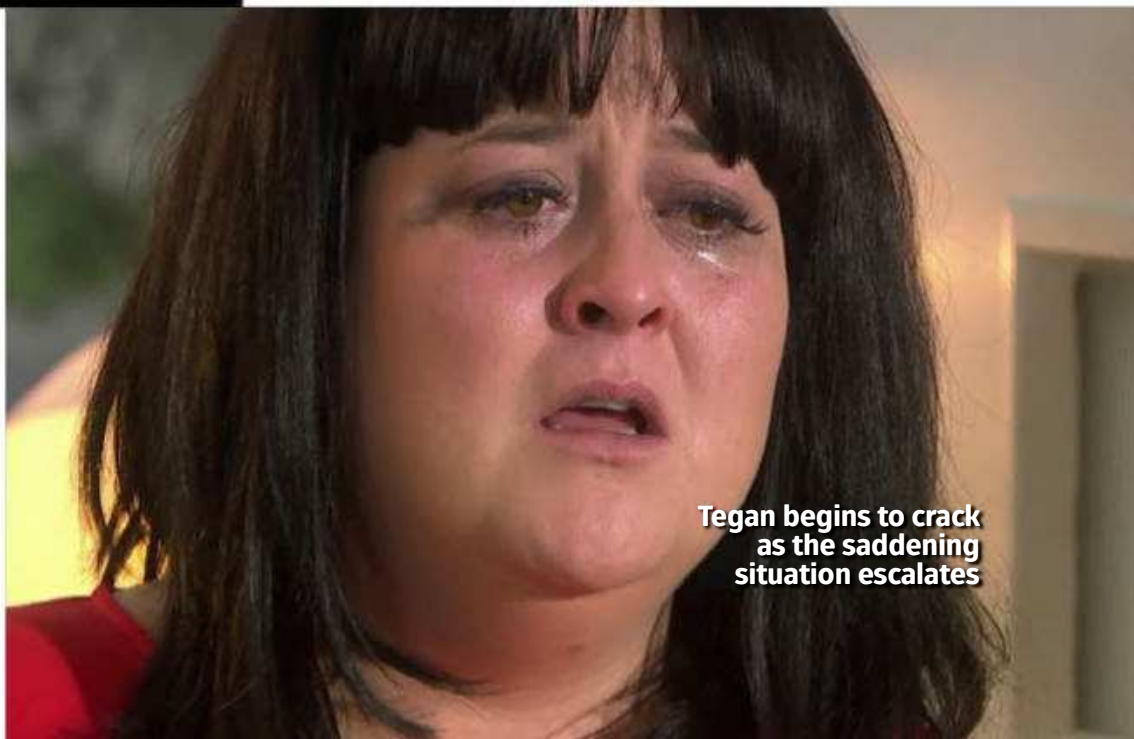

With Diane insisting that Tegan gets no say in what happens to Dee Dee, Tegan feels that she has no choice but to take drastic action – so she goes to lawyer James!

"What is she thinking? This is the guy who tried to get her brother sent down for murder!" despairs Jess. "But Tegan's really frustrated, and that's why she goes to James.

Ideally she wants them all to sit down and discuss Dee Dee's treatment together, though she feels that it's two against one – Diane and Tony have each other, and she doesn't have anyone."

What will James advise Tegan to do? Does she have any legal claim to Dee Dee? Or will she have to accept that Diane and Tony are calling the shots now?

MAN, THEY VOW TO GET REVENGE...

Sisters Toyah and Leanne Battersby both arrange dates with Imran this week, unaware that the other is seeing him too. But when the truth is revealed to the two women, how will they react?

Neither Toyah nor Leanne realise that their sibling has also been seeing Imran, but via a series of misunderstandings, the lusty Lothario has come away with the impression that both of his girlfriends are happy with the nature of the unconventional relationship! Sensing danger, Adam tries to make Imran see sense, urging him to make a choice of who he wants to date the most...

"Imran can't believe his luck, yet Adam can see that his fellow lawyer is heading for disaster," groans our cobbles insider. "He helpfully suggests that Imran make a list of pros and cons for both women, so he can make an informed judgement on who to keep and who to ditch. However, just as Imran is weighing up his options, Toyah arrives at the office – and things get very steamy between the pair of them! Will that affect his ultimate choice?"

"Adam can see his fellow lawyer is heading for disaster..."

Meanwhile, Weatherfield's latest Casanova is in danger of being busted when Sally finds a list of names that he dropped at the café. On arriving at the solicitor's office to hand him back the list, Sally hears Adam ticking off Imran, telling him he can't carry on sleeping with both sisters!

Eavesdropping further, she realises that the list she has in her hand is a list of witnesses for Duncan's court case (see p10). What will she do with all this information?

"Sally is shocked by what she hears!" gasps our mole.

"She's left in no doubt that she has to tell the two Battersby women what she's found out. And when she does, both of them are as furious as you'd expect! Once they're over their initial anger, however, they decide to get their own back on Imran. They agree to play along with his misapprehension and pretend that they really are happy to date him at the same time! When they suggest to Imran that he take them both out on a date simultaneously, he eagerly agrees. What do they have planned for him?"

Later that evening, Imran arrives at the Bistro, not able to believe his luck. As the champagne starts flowing freely, the sisters seemingly lose their inhibitions, telling their conquest that he's in for the night of his life! But as Imran prepares himself for a passionate threesome with the sexy sisters, will he come to remember the evening for all the wrong reasons?

“I don’t need you, Mum!”

BUT IS HAYLEY JUST PUTTING ON A BRAVE FACE WHEN HER MOTHER TURNS UP IN ALBERT SQUARE?

Mum-to-be Hayley Slater comes face to face with her own mother this week – but when Bev tries to reconnect with her daughter, Hayley tells her to do one! The meeting leaves Hayley more doubtful than ever about her abilities as a mum, and she begins to sink into a decline...

The spiky encounter happens as Hayley struggles to come to terms with the full impact of motherhood – especially when she realises just how much Stacey does for her own brood of children.

“Hayley might not have her own parents around her as she prepares to be a mum, but she has at least been accepted by the rest of the Slater clan at No 31,” points out our Walford informant. “However, it’s finally dawning on her what having a baby will mean in practice. Stacey has three children, yet she seems to cope effortlessly – and Hayley is scared stiff of having just the one! Sensing Hayley’s apprehension, Stacey tries to reassure her relative.”

Although Hayley starts to feel more positive, her improved mood is dealt a blow when she spots a familiar figure loitering in the Square – her mum, Bev!

“We might not know much about Hayley’s mum, but it’s clear from Hayley’s expression that she’s far from welcome!” reckons our insider. “And when Bev later turns up at the Slater household, she’s quickly given short shrift by Hayley and Kat. To make matters much worse, Hayley finds out her mother’s presence is down to Jean, which angers her even further! Hayley soon finds her resolve weakening, though, as Jean passes on some flowers that Bev has sent. Is Hayley set to give her mum a fair hearing?”

Hayley is not at all happy with Jean contacting her mum behind her back

Agreeing to meet Bev for a drink at E20, Hayley asks her what she really wants – and doesn't like what she hears! It's not long before they're at loggerheads as Hayley realises her mum hasn't changed one bit. But there's worse to come, when the pregnant woman fears she's losing her baby...

"Bev shows her true colours by ignoring Hayley's cries for help," sighs our spy. "Although it's clear that her daughter is in severe distress, Bev hops into a cab and scarpers! Will that be the last that Hayley sees of her, or will she turn up again like the proverbial bad penny?"

Fortunately, Hayley recovers, but plays down what happened to Jean, who insists that she go to A&E to be fully checked out. However, with Hayley already doubting herself – and her mother's words making her feel even more inadequate – will the fragile lass end up doing something she'll regret?

ALFIE – BACK FOR KAT!

But he has no idea Hayley is still pregnant...

As Hayley questions her suitability as a mother, the father of her baby is on his way back to Walford!

New behind-the-scenes pictures released by EastEnders bosses have confirmed that Shane Richie has returned to filming for a new storyline that will see Alfie reunited with his soulmate Kat once more...

"Alfie is completely unaware that Hayley changed her mind about having a termination," an EastEnders spokesperson reminds us. "He gets in touch with Kat out of the blue and enlists her help with a favour – but he is secretly planning a big surprise, and is in London waiting for her!"

So is Alfie set to receive the daddy of all shocks if he learns that Hayley is still carrying their child? And will Kat finally discover their betrayal? Find out later this autumn!

Robert has no idea Rebecca is in danger from a sinister nurse

EMMERDALE | ITV MONDAY

Is this the end for Rebecca?

LACHLAN FINALLY CRACKS, BUT IT MAY BE TOO LATE...

Robert faces a race against time to save Rebecca this week, after Lachlan reveals that his aunt is still alive. But poor Rebecca might not stay that way for long, as the nurse guarding her loads a syringe – and appears set on finishing her off for good!

“Lachlan gives Robert an address for where Rebecca is being held,” explains actor Ryan Hawley, who plays Robert. “So he speeds there urgently, kicks the door down and forces his way in.

“Once he’s inside, though, it’s a really odd scene that greets him. It’s a very strange, bizarre set-up – clinical almost – and there are signs of a struggle. The fact that there is also blood and no sign of Rebecca doesn’t look good.”

The drama unfolds after Robert visits Lachlan in prison and demands to know where Rebecca is. Up to this point, the warped lad has been refusing to confirm her location, toying with the police and using Rebecca as leverage in a twisted game of cat and mouse.

But there is no way Robert is going to give up on the mother of his child, setting the stage for the ultimate showdown between him and Lachlan.

“Robert goes to visit him in prison,” shares Ryan. “Although Lachlan is behind bars and will eventually be punished for what he has done, he still holds all of the cards and is in complete control of the situation. He enjoys playing with Robert and getting his own back for all the grief that Robert has caused his family.”

As Robert listens intently to his former stepson, he’s horrified as Lachlan takes great pleasure in revealing that he was behind the carbon

“Lachlan still holds all of the cards – he’s in complete control...”

Lachlan channels his inner Hannibal Lecter by toying with Robert confused. Lachlan insists that he didn't kill Rebecca, but his pleas fall on deaf ears with the police – while the rest of the village raises a glass to Rebecca in the Woolpack, convinced that she is dead.

Later, Robert receives a frantic call from Lachlan, who insists that he left Rebecca with a nurse. But will anyone believe him? And is it really too late for Rebecca?

Laura-Jayne Tyler

ACTION STATIONS!

Lachlan's killing spree had to end somewhere – and Ryan is thrilled that Robert was central to the story that finally brought down his long-time nemesis.

"It's been a lot of fun – especially the climax of it all when Lachlan had the gun, Robert and Ross teamed up and then hit Belle with their car," grins Ryan. "I never usually get to work with Eden [Taylor-Draper, who plays Belle], as she is not someone who I'm frequently in scenes with. So it was really nice to get to know her a little bit, get out of the studio and see the sunlight!"

monoxide leak that almost killed both Robert and Liv.

"It's sickening to hear," grimaces Ryan. "Liv said at the time that Lachlan had something to do with it, but Robert didn't listen and thought that her imagination was running away with her. So he feels foolish, and disgusted by the lengths Lachlan would go to."

There is no time for Robert to dwell on such matters though, as Lachlan finally says what Robert has been desperate to hear:

Rebecca is alive. With that, Robert sets off to track her down – but hits a dead end at the clinical room.

"In that moment, Robert is certain that he's too late and that Rebecca is dead," sighs Ryan. "I guess he's in a state of shock over the scene that greets him, and calls the police straight away. Robert is convinced that Lachlan was playing games all along."

However, when the police tell Lachlan that Rebecca wasn't at the address that he provided, he is genuinely

Liz falls for wicked Hannah's lies!

SHE AND JIM CONTINUE THEIR RUTHLESS SCHEME...

Hannah is hiding her true motives for coming to Weatherfield

Poor Liz McDonald could be heading for major heartbreak in the coming weeks, as Jim and Hannah step up their twisted plotting against her!

Liz's world was turned upside down when Jim arrived back on the cobbles recently and introduced her to Hannah – explaining that she was in fact their daughter Katie, who they believed to be dead! But as Liz reels from this earth-shattering bombshell, viewers will find out that there's more to this story than meets the eye...

they're not entirely on the level, and that there's a specific reason that they've come back to the Street. They've concocted a wicked scheme – one that will leave Liz absolutely broken if she ever finds out!"

As the week kicks off, Steve is still unsure about his dad's tale – having found some suspicious info about Hannah online – and demands she take a DNA test to prove that she's really his sister. Hannah is only too happy to oblige, positive that the test will give Steve the answers he needs, and stop him snooping into what she and Jim are really up to.

Meanwhile, Hannah's eyes light up when she finds out that Liz still has a large amount of money from the sale of the Rovers in her bank account. And she's soon faking a collapse in order to pull on gullible Liz's heartstrings!

"Hannah has told Liz that she has myotonic dystrophy – a hereditary condition which Jim suffers from," our mole reminds us. "So when Liz sees her girl collapsed on the floor, she's distraught! Now that she has got her daughter back, the last thing Liz wants is to lose her again – so she invites Hannah to move in with her in order to keep a close eye on her. Tracy and Steve aren't happy, yet Hannah's delighted."

While Hannah rubs her hands together with glee, Jim is less sure about their plotting. He wonders if they're starting to push things too far, leaving Hannah to jump to an obvious conclusion – that he

Tracy's wedding nightmare!

HER PLANS FOR THE BIG DAY UNRAVEL...

The course of true love never runs smoothly, especially when Tracy Barlow is involved!

This week, her dream wedding to Steve literally goes up in flames as news reaches the couple that their fairy-tale castle venue has burned down!

"You'd think that the cremation of Steve's wedding venue might be enough to put an end to this absolute farce of an engagement – well, not if Tracy has anything to say about it!" despairs our Corrie insider. "Sure, she is absolutely devastated by the disaster – as only the best will do for her big day – but she's not letting Steve off the hook that easily!"

However, while Tracy tries to salvage her perfect ceremony, the wheels continue to come off one by one, as yet more obstacles present themselves.

Having only been briefly married to Steve before, Tracy doesn't truly know what it's like to be caught in the middle of a McDonald family storm – at least, not one that she hasn't caused! So the last thing Tracy needs is to hear that Liz wants newly arrived Hannah to move into the flat they all share. It's just one more distraction that bridezilla Tracy could do without!

That said, Tracy does manage to steer her man away from his dramas at home long enough for Mary to teach the couple The Last Dance Of The Season from the movie Dirty Dancing. The plan is for Steve and Tracy to mirror the classic routine for the first dance of their wedding – but Patrick Swayze, Steve is not! After the mortified fella struggles with the moves, he ends up storming out of the class when both Mary and Abi make fun of him.

Abi later catches up with Steve and offers to help him surprise his wife-to-be – but will Tracy be back at square one if Steve loses the will to carry on?

still has feelings for Liz! Could she be right on the money?

Jim may be having second thoughts, but it appears that Hannah is ruthlessly determined to forge ahead with their awful plan. The big question is: what exactly do they want from Liz and Steve?

Kush falls apart!

HE IS PUSHED TO BREAKING POINT BY CARMEL'S MISSION TO HELP SHAKIL'S KILLER...

EASTENDERS | BBC1 MONDAY

Kush rages at mum Carmel this week, following her visit to Shakil's killer – but then finally lets go of his crushing agony, and breaks down in her arms.

Up until recently, the muscly market trader has been a tower of support for Carmel as they've attempted to cope with the tragic murder of their beloved Shakil. But while his mother gets involved with Sophie – the mum of Shakil's killer – in order to find a way to move forward, poor Kush has been sinking into despair...

"Without Kush around to keep her strong, Carmel may never have survived the loss of Shakil," reckons our Walford insider. "But while Carmel's devastation has been plain to see, Kush's misery has been building up quietly inside.

We've seen him hit the bottle and cheat on fiancée Denise, so it was only a matter of time before he properly snapped."

That happens this week as Sophie's presence in the Square pushes him to breaking point. Being the mother of Shakil's killer Bruno, Sophie is a painful reminder of how much the Kazemis have lost as a result of such a senseless act – and Kush wants her gone.

However, after meeting with Bruno in prison and seeing his remorse, Carmel comes to Sophie's defence – prompting her son to issue her with a shocking ultimatum!

Later, Kush heads to the Vic to drown his sorrows – and it's only after Hayley gives him a reality check that he takes himself off home. But when Carmel spots him struggling into the flat clearly worse for wear, Kush deflects her efforts to help him by slamming the front door in her face.

"Carmel's visit to Bruno has helped her to find some peace," explains our source. "She sees helping Sophie as a way for something good to come out of this terrible ordeal. Yet Kush just can't get on board with that approach."

Nevertheless, Carmel remains determined to help Sophie and, remarkably, even offers to write a letter for Bruno's lawyer to help reduce the boy's sentence.

Meanwhile, Kush finally lets go of his pain and sobs in his mother's arms. However, it's clear that he still has a long way to go in the healing process, as another run-in with Sophie at the market forces Martin to intervene.

While Kush and Sophie meet later at his flat, will he agree to hear her out after realising that she is scared of him? And will talking to the mother of his brother's killer also help Kush to find some closure in the same way that Carmel has?

Vicky arrives at the factory with a chip on her shoulder

Keep your enemies close...

PETER IS SHOCKED WHEN CARLA RECRUITS BAD BOY TYLER'S MUM, VICKY, AT THE FACTORY...

CORONATION STREET | ITV WEDNESDAY

Carla enrages Peter this week, as she gives a job at the factory to Vicky – the mum of gang leader Tyler Jeffries. How will Carla react when Peter demands that she sack her new employee?

After Peter's son Simon is targeted by Tyler's mates, the angry dad is determined to do something about it. He heads over to confront the jailed thug's mother – but the encounter doesn't go well...

"Tyler and his crew have really made poor Simon's life a misery," sighs our Corrie informant. "In a petty act of revenge, the remaining gang members steal Simon's school bag and rip up his homework – and Peter reckons enough is enough! However, when he demands Vicky do something about their behaviour, she makes it clear how she resents Simon for her 'perfect' boy ending up in prison. Peter doesn't accept that, of course, telling her that Tyler only has himself to blame – yet he soon has another reason for being furious, as Carla gives Vicky a job at Underworld!"

After he hears this news, Peter desperately appeals to Carla, impressing on his business partner the need to give Vicky the boot. Will Carla pay any attention to his demands when he explains who the woman's son is?

"While Carla is sympathetic to young Simon's plight, she is trying to run a business," says our snitch. "And as Beth and Kirk both phone in sick, she's relying on Vicky more than ever to cover their shifts. So Carla reminds Peter that she's the one who decides who gets hired and fired, and he needs to get over himself!"

When Simon hears how his dad has tried to get Vicky sacked, he's horrified – telling him that his interference will only make things worse for him at school. Shamefaced Peter realises that he's made a mistake, so tries a new tack.

He tells Vicky that she can keep her job on one condition – that she tells bad-boy Tyler to call off his mates and leave Simon alone.

"Peter thinks that his peace-offering has done the trick," reveals our mole. "He goes back to speak to Carla, assuring her that everything has been sorted out, and he no longer wants Vicky to be fired. The question is: how long can the ceasefire last?"

While Carla is bemused by Peter's change of heart, she's happy that everything seems to be back to normal. Peter, meanwhile, is determined to keep his eye on Vicky. After all, there's an old saying about keeping your friends close, but your enemies closer...

"If you remember, Adam was supposed to give Ronan the money from the sale of the drugs that Rosie had hidden early last year," summarises our Corrie insider. "But Ken burnt the money, so the way Ronan sees it, Adam still owes him – big time! It just so happens Ronan's son, Cormac, has been released from a young offenders' institute, and the dutiful dad wants Adam to see if he can pull a few strings to find him a job."

LACHLAN OVERLOAD

Please tell me that this will be an end to the Lachlan plot now Belle knows he's a killer? The soaps seem to be competing to see who can have the biggest murderer, and it's really boring. I thought soaps were meant to be true to life? There are no serial killers living in my village!

🗨️ | George

WEDDING MELS

I'm sorry, but I don't buy for one minute that EastEnders' Jack would ask Mel to marry him after knowing her for all of five minutes. All that stuff about him being a "commitment kind of guy" was utter nonsense – Ronnie was the love of his life! He wouldn't get hitched to someone else less than two years after her death.

🗨️ | Betsey

Maybe he just likes getting wedding presents...

NOT A GOOD LUKE

My heart absolutely broke for poor Scott in Hollyoaks this week. It was bad enough that Ollie let him take the blame for something he didn't do, but the way Luke waded in and beat him up was utterly appalling. I really hope Luke gets sent down for what he did to him.

🗨️ | Gina, Brighton

With actor Gary Lucy heading off for another Full Monty tour, Luke could be gone for a while...

MUMMA MORGAN

I really love the storyline in Home and Away about Tori wanting to have a baby on her own. I don't recall ever seeing a story like that being done in soap before, and it's great to see a woman take control of her life without needing a man to hold her hand. I really hope Tori gets the baby she longs for!

🗨️ | Rebecca

Tori could always start fostering and become the new Pippa.

JUDE AWAKENING

Just when I thought we were finally going to get rid of pathetic Jude in Corrie, he goes and lies about saving Roy's life, and everyone brands him a hero! I hope Dr Ali tells everyone the truth, and that Mary will disown Jude for good. She's far too interesting to have such a dullard for a son!

🗨️ | Rochelle

I hope Angie sticks around for a bit, though – then she can shack up with Adam!

Is it time for Bernice to give Daz the flick?

DITCH DOZY DAZ!

I love Bernice in Emmerdale, and I've always thought that she was too good for Daz. So now that there's a spark between her and dishy Dr Cavanagh, I'm hoping she'll finally have the guts to dump Daz. He's dragging her down – and lovely Liam is a much better match!

👍 | Julianne

I can just imagine Bernice as a doctor's wife – she'd love it!

DNA DRAMA

I thoroughly enjoyed Coronation Street's DNA Secrets – Sally Ann Matthews (Jenny) and Amanda Barrie (Alma) acted together for years without being aware they were cousins!

I especially loved the fans whose DNA revealed they were related to the stars themselves. Engrossing stuff, with as many twists and turns as in an episode of the soap.

👍 | Maria, Liverpool

Who knew that real life was just as interesting as the telly?

BLIND DATES

Do the writers of EastEnders put all the characters' names in a hat and then pick out any two to have a relationship with each other? How else can you explain

Kathy and Masood, and Sharon and Keanu?

Whatever next – Dot and Ted?

👍 | Colin

But Kathy and Masood are the perfect match!

ILLUSTRATION: ROB DAVIS

LOVE CONQUERS ALL!

Neighbours' David and Aaron made TV history in Oz by being the first same-sex couple to get hitched! And here in the UK, we loved seeing every moment of their beautiful, love-filled big day...

The thing I loved most about David and Aaron's wedding was that there was no real drama – it was just about two people in love pledging to spend the rest of their lives together. Nothing exploded, nobody confessed a secret affair. It really reminded me of Scott and Charlene's wedding – so let's hope David and Aaron will be happily married for just as long!

👍 | Kerry

What a lovely touch, seeing David and Aaron walk down the aisle to Kylie and Jason's Especially For You. It's great that Neighbours gives fans these little nods to the good old days, it really feels like the bosses are making the show for those of us who have been watching for over 30 years!

👍 | Jude, Exeter

But some of you were a bit distracted by a certain

Erinsborough newcomer, who's been an instant hit...

Jemima the wedding celebrant was simply hilarious! I know actress Magda Szubanski from Aussie comedy Kath & Kim, so I was looking forward to her popping up on Ramsay Street. But she was even funnier than I thought! I can't believe she is Karl's sister!

👍 | Emma, London

Neighbours is getting funnier by the day! The scenes with Karl and Jemima singing together were a real treat, and I love the evil looks Susan keeps giving her new sister-in-law. I do hope Jemima will be sticking around – she's gold!

👍 | Kimberley

Don't worry – Jemima will be causing lots more grief for poor Susan and Karl!

Ruby in THE SMOKE!

AFTER 12 YEARS AWAY, LOUISA LYTTON IS BACK IN WALFORD AS RUBY ALLEN. BUT HAS THE GANGSTER'S DAUGHTER CHANGED?

When Ruby Allen left Walford in the back of a taxi, shattered over her father's death and seething after rows with best mate Stacey and lover Sean, it seemed there was nothing left for her in Albert Square. Since then, the residents have barely spared the spoilt gangster's daughter a second thought, so it comes as quite a surprise this week when Ruby returns to her old stomping ground. But not as much of a surprise as it was for actress Louisa Lytton...

"I haven't been in the show for 12 years, so it was a bit of a shock!" admits the 29-year-old actress. "I got a phone call from John Yorke [EastEnders' executive consultant] asking if I would like to come back, which was a great call to get – and obviously I said yes!"

The phone also heralds Ruby's return on screen this week, as Stacey receives a mysterious text from an unknown number, asking to meet. Her interest piqued, Stacey goes to E20 as instructed, and is shocked to see her old pal is there to meet her.

"Ruby reaches out just to see her friend as she's passing the area, but I think actually deep down she's quite lonely," suggests Louisa. "I think it's a thing of going back to what she knows and recreating that connection with her old friend."

And it hasn't taken long for Louisa to re-establish all of her old relationships at the EastEnders studios either.

"It was really surreal, because I felt like I came into work and time had not passed," she grins. "I saw the same people on the reception desk and at the security gate and all the cast and the costume and make-up teams. So many of the same faces, that it almost made me feel like I hadn't left!"

"It's so funny – when Lacey [Turner, who plays Stacey] and I met again, it was like we just saw each other yesterday," continues the actress. "Hopefully that shows on screen too. We get on so well and it's so easy for us to work together because of that. So it was nice to just come to work and feel really comfortable with someone and catch up on and off screen."

However, will it be such plain sailing for the pair as their reunion progresses? After their initial meeting, Ruby is keen for them to have a night out together, and Stacey is excited at the prospect of a fun evening with her friend – and is even more delighted when Martin treats her to a new dress. Done up to the nines, the girls head out on the town, but when Ruby catches the eye of a gang of lads, she does something that surprises Stacey! Which raises the question of how much Ruby has changed...

"Well, she's older and more confident," shares Louisa, who after leaving EastEnders played PC Beth Green in The Bill for two years, as well as taking part in 2006's series of Strictly Come Dancing and landing a film role in an American Pie sequel. "It's nice to see her in a different light. It's been really surreal to step back into her shoes, because it was the first big job I ever had. Hopefully the viewers will warm to her like they did before."

Steven Murphy

Lifting Louisa: The star with her Strictly partner Vincent Simone

I think that deep down Ruby is really quite lonely

Friends reunited: Stacey and Ruby go out on the town

Force to be reckoned with: Louisa in her role as PC Beth Green in The Bill

Ruby's BLUE DAYS!

Ruby's time in Walford wasn't full of happy memories...

BEREAVED!

Ruby's arrival came in the wake of her mum and sister's deaths in a house fire. She intended the move to Walford to be a fresh start – little did she know what lay ahead...

DUPED!

Ruby was used as a pawn in Phil's feud with her gangster dad Johnny. Phil paid Gus Smith's brother Juley to date Ruby to try to antagonise Johnny. Juley robbed Ruby of £2000 and fled.

SICKENED!

Ruby was disgusted to learn that her dad had caused the deaths of Andy Hunter and Dennis Rickman, and so forced him to hand himself into the police.

SHATTERED!

Johnny was sent to prison, but he died of a heart attack after a heated argument with Ruby's boyfriend Sean Slater, leaving Ruby feeling guilty and bereft.

BETRAYED!

Ruby got a moment of joy when Sean proposed, but she soon discovered he'd cheated on her! After falling out with Stacey, Ruby fled the Square, to begin a new life elsewhere...

EMMERDALE | ITV TUESDAY

AS HER ALTER EGO
REVEALS A HUGE FAMILY SECRET, THE DALES' SANDRA
MARVIN LETS SLIP A FEW OF HER OWN...

going to be a lot of mountains to climb for Jessie and Marlon!”

Emmerdale fans have seen a different side to Hotten Academy's headteacher Jessie Grant in recent weeks. Although she's been in the village since November, Jessie's family has been largely kept a mystery up to now. We know that she has two former husbands – one dead and one divorced – but it's only since the arrival of her son Ellis that we've discovered more...

"I think it's going to be exciting for the audience to learn more about Jessie and her history," beams Sandra Marvin, who plays her. "All the good and bad bits – and the secrets she has in her closet!"

We're intrigued to hear more about her relationship with Ellis. It seems as if Jessie is pleased to be reunited with her son, even though his arrival has caused problems in her romance with Marlon.

"She is really happy to see Ellis," insists Sandra. "As we've explored, there has been some friction and distance between them, as Ellis has been living with his dad. So she has missed him, but there are tensions between them for various reasons. Can they be resolved? I don't know!"

Ellis has been staying in Marlon's spare room since turning up, which has caused some heartache for Jessie's other half – as she's been keen to cool things between them while she builds up her bond with her boy. Nevertheless, Jessie seems to be pleased with the budding friendship between her fella and her son.

"Well, after the initial hiccup where Ellis managed to injure Marlon, I think their rapport amuses her," says Sandra. "Ellis brings out the youthfulness in Marlon and they get on like a house on fire. So, if anything, she's a little surprised at how quickly they've clicked!"

It seems as though there's the potential for the perfect family set-up. Then again, there's that small matter of a very big secret about to drop. Jessie admits to Ellis that she has been visiting her other son, Billy, but she hasn't yet told Marlon about his existence – or why she's been keeping him quiet for so long...

Taken for Granted: Jessie has liked keeping her private life just that, but now it's all changing

"She doesn't know how Marlon is going to react," teases Sandra. "It's something that's so important to her. She's scared of being that vulnerable with him. It's still early days being with Marlon, and it's been easy to keep this secret so far. It's just been her and Marlon, and no one else really knows her. However, once Ellis is there too, it becomes much more difficult. In the end, her hand is kind of forced. Marlon walks into a situation, and the decision is taken out of her hands!"

"He's floored initially," adds the actress. "She's expecting him to be shocked, and it's definitely going to be challenging for them. It's going to present some obstacles in the future, and there will be a lot of mountains for them both to get over."

Here at Inside Soap, we're keeping everything crossed that Jessie and Marlon go the distance, especially after it took them so long to get together! And Sandra is just as keen as we are that their story will have a happy ending.

"I think that it's a very playful relationship," enthuses the star. "I mean he's been persistent, hasn't he? She's found that endearing. He's really funny – whether he means to be or not! They have a similar sense of humour, even if a lot of the time she's taking the mickey out of him. But I think she genuinely does care for him. They have a relationship that's based on a lot of laughter, and, by God, you need to laugh through life's challenges! So that bodes well for them. Will that save them, though? We'll see..."

Tom Spilsbury

There's been some friction between Jessie and son Ellis...

That's my BOY!

It's a challenge to be introduced to each other one moment, then play mum and son the next – but Sandra feels lucky to have been teamed with Asan N'Jie, who plays Ellis.

"He's a bundle of fun, and a little ray of sunshine!" she raves when we mention his name. "Asan just has so much energy, and he's really loving his life. So yeah, it's exciting working opposite him."

So, after many months in the Dales, did Sandra give him the benefit of her experience so far?

"All I told him was, 'Pinch yourself and love every minute!'" she grins.

Secret son: Marlon is taken aback by news of another Grant lad

I It's a little bit saucy, isn't it?" giggles Neighbours star Rebekah Elmaloglou, as we quiz her on her character Terese's steamy romance with younger employee Leo. "When our producer first called me into his office to pitch the idea of Terese and Leo together, I was like, 'Whaaattttt?! No way! Are you serious?' It was the last thing I was expecting! But I have to say that the feedback we've had from viewers has been amazing so far."

This unlikely romance has taken everyone by surprise – including Chloe, who's stunned to catch the pair getting jiggy on a boat this week! But as we sit down with Rebekah and co-star Tim Kano (Leo) for a chat, they appear to be having a ball filming the risqué scenes...

What was your reaction when you first heard about this storyline, Tim?

Tim I thought it was great! I was really excited about it, because I could see where Leo's attraction to Terese was coming from. But I was also a bit nervous, because I didn't know how the audience would respond. Not just because of the age gap, but because Leo is betraying his father, Paul.

What sort of feedback have you had from the fans?

Tim It's a real mixed bag. I read some comments on social media, and a lot of people are saying, "Don't do that to your dad – Terese should be with Paul!" But then others have been saying that Leo should just go for it!

Do Terese and Leo have genuine feelings for each other?

Rebekah I actually think they do. A lot of people have questioned whether

"These are the raunchiest scenes we've done yet!"

Better (not) call Paul:

say if he finds out?

they're just doing it out of revenge towards Paul, but I think that's the last thing on their minds. Terese is really flattered that this gorgeous young man fancies her, then she sees a side to him that's quite lovely.

Tim I don't think Leo would pursue such a risky relationship if it wasn't true love. Terese is his ideal woman, and everything he's looking for in a partner.

Might Terese still have feelings for Paul, though?

Rebekah There will always be something between her and Paul – that's never going to end. And I'm sure that will come into play with her relationship with Leo...

Tim Definitely – Leo will always be insecure about that. Certain situations will bring Terese and Paul closer together, which worries Leo. It's not simple or straightforward!

The scenes seem pretty saucy! How do you approach filming those?

Tim Working with Bek is heaps of fun, she's always makes those scenes really comfortable. They are quite risqué – they were the raunchiest scenes we've done on the show yet! But we both just embraced them.

Rebekah I actually find it easier doing those type of scenes with actors that I don't know well – it's a bit tricky when you're good friends with someone! I was actually more nervous about kissing Tim than I was about kissing any of the hundreds of other actors I've had to kiss before. But once we broke the ice, it was fine.

After Chloe busts them this week, surely it's only a matter of time before everyone else finds out...

Tim Yeah, it's pretty difficult to keep it under wraps, especially when they're

Please Chlo away!:
The lovers have an both working with Paul! A showdown between Leo and his father is inevitable.

Rebekah They're really worried about Paul finding out, because they know all hell will break loose when that happens! But also, Terese wants to make sure that she can tell Piper before she finds out from anyone else.

So what advice would you give to the pair of them about their fling?

Rebekah I'd say, "Just go for it, dar!! He's hot!" I'd definitely encourage it!

Sarah Ellis

Height HANDICAP

The technical issues of filming...

Rebekah tells us that it wasn't just the age gap that initially worried her about this plot...

"I'm so little and voluptuous, and Tim's so tall and slim – I just thought, 'How's this going to work?!'" she confesses. "We couldn't be more different! I've had to stand on boxes for the kissing scenes.

"I did feel a little bit insecure at first," adds Bek. "But Tim's a true gentleman, and just humoured me. He's divine!"

Step back in time!

EMMERDALE'S MARK CHARNOCK TELLS US ABOUT A NEW SHOW LOOKING AT WHAT LIFE WOULD HAVE BEEN LIKE IN YORKSHIRE DURING THE WAR...

There's an extra dose of Emmerdale action on our screens this week, as some of our favourite stars from the show travel back to 1918 for this documentary series. They delve into the lives of people living in Esholt village – where the soap was originally filmed – at the time of World War I.

First up is Mark Charnock, aka Woolpack chef Marlon, who follows the interesting story of an Army cook called Frederick Brocklehurst...

"Frederick joined up, was thrust into the frontline, and ended up being a cook – even though he wasn't trained," explains Mark, as we chat to him about his involvement in the historical show. "What I liked about Fred is that there was a certain Dingle-ness about him – he didn't always follow the rules. He smuggled a camera behind the lines when soldiers weren't meant to do that, so he didn't naturally bow to authority."

In a bid to find out what life would have been like for Fred back in 1918, Mark visits some replica trenches to get a taste of fighting on the front line in tough conditions. He also goes to an Army barracks in Lincolnshire – to try his hand at cooking lunch for the troops!

"I didn't know I was going to the barracks that day," recalls Mark. "But it was one of those life experiences I will never forget, because I was in a place that I would never normally see, meeting people who I probably wouldn't usually meet – it was genuinely exciting and nerve-wracking. They're used to good cooking, and instead they had this lanky idiot making them bad puddings! They were very kind to me, though."

The rest of the series will see some of Mark's co-stars investigating the lives of their characters' wartime counterparts – including

Natalie J Robb (Moir) finding out all about a real-life land girl, and Zoe Henry, aka vet Rhona, delving into the life of a front-line vet. And at the end of it all, the stars come together for their very own Armistice Day celebration.

Fred didn't follow the rules – he didn't bow to authority

Anger issues

As Imran hits his sister, Hollyoaks' Haiesha Mistry tells us that Yas has had enough...

"We all found it very moving, and became personally invested," Mark tells us. "The producers kept their cards close to their chests, so we didn't know what to expect on that last day. But Emmerdale's main street was lined with people waving flags and we had a brass band – and unfortunately I'd cooked for everyone, which got a mixed response! There was a real village fayre feel about it – it was very warm and sincere."

While Mark enjoyed his foray into the past, he admits that he wouldn't have wanted to live in 1918 himself. However, he is up for the idea of a special Emmerdale episode that travels back in time, where the cast all play their characters' great-grandparents.

"That would be fantastic," he enthuses. "But I reckon only if I can have a great big moustache!"

Sarah Ellis

Brotherly hate: Yasmine quietly seethes as Imran continues to act up he hits her. That changes everything for her – she still had a tiny bit of love for her brother before, but now that he's turned on her, she wants to completely disown him. He doesn't even apologise for what he's done.

There's another dramatic twist in Imran's abuse story this week, when he lashes out and hits his sister, Yasmine! We caught up with star Haiesha Mistry (Yas) to see how her character reacts to her brother's shock violence...

Yas has been drugging Imran with their mum's anxiety medication. Why has she been doing that?

In her eyes, it's the only way to keep her mum safe, because she knows that Imran is abusing Misbah. When we were filming those scenes, I was like, "Wow, this is taking a real turn here!"

She tries to drug him again when Aunt Kameela comes over. What happens?

Well, Aunt Kameela is quite snotty, so everybody is on edge. And Yas really despises Imran at this point! But she realises she doesn't have enough pills left, so she goes to the pharmacist to get some more – and she steals a prescription pad from her mum! It's a very silly thing to do.

So how does it escalate into Imran hitting her?

He finds out she's been drugging him after the prescription pad falls out of her bag – and that's when

What was it like for you and Ijaz (Rana, aka Imran) to film these confronting scenes?

It was great. The whole Maalik family is very close, so when we do these type of scenes, we can really get into them. We know each other so well now, that it's actually a breeze to do any of these emotional episodes.

We love Yas' colourful style! What do you think of it?

I absolutely love it! I'm quite similar in real life anyway – I like to do colour clashes like Yasmine does. So if I put up an Instagram post where I'm mixing colours or patterns, everyone always thinks that I'm wearing my Yas costume – and I'm like, "No, that's just me!"

Sarah Ellis

10 totally true FACTS about... Jane Danson

YOUR InsideSoap BRIEFING ON THE WOMAN BEHIND CORRIE'S LEANNE...

1 Jane was born in Bury, Greater Manchester on 8 November 1978 to mother Lynne, a care assistant, and builder dad Jack. She has one brother, Paul, and a sister, Alison. Even at a tender age, Jane was bound for stardom, and she has Pontins to thank for that. The Bluecoats were dazzled by seven-year-old Jane's performance in a singing contest and urged her parents to take it seriously.

3 In 1997, Coronation Street didn't know what hit it when the Battersby family arrived on the cobbles. Jane was cast as gobby Leanne, but found her sudden fame overwhelming.

"I couldn't cope with it," she says. "I had this amazing job, and by 19 had my own house, but I just sat inside. I was scared of someone throwing a drink in my face if I went out. So I just stayed at home, ate biscuits and put on a stone."

2 It wasn't long before young Jane swapped singing for acting. She started her television career in 1991 alongside Dame Julie Walters in gritty drama GBH, credited as Jane Dawson – she had to change her surname to Danson after realising that there was another actress called Jane Dawson. In 1995, Jane joined kids' drama Children's Ward, where Corrie co-stars Samia Longchambon (Maria), Alan Halsall (Tyrone) and Tina O'Brien (Sarah) also had their big break.

4 The British Soap Awards held its first ceremony in 1999, and the event holds a special place in Jane's heart – as that's where she met her husband, actor Robert Beck. Jane admits she'd long been nursing a big crush on the Brookside star, who played Peter Harrison, and had posters of him on her walls. But that night, sparks flew and the smitten pair have been together ever since. They married in December 2005 and are proud parents to their sons Harry, 12, and Sam, nine.

5 Jane loves singing and has wowed the public with her talents. In 1998, she transformed into Posh Spice when she performed alongside Corrie co-stars Gaynor Faye (Judy), Angela Griffin (Fiona), Tracy Shaw (Maxine) and Holly Newman (Lorraine) as the Spice Girls on Stars In Their Eyes. Jane went solo on the show in 2003 as Madonna – and she won!

7 There are some dubious honours in showbiz, and Jane picked up one of the most infamous in 2000 when she was named 'Rear Of The Year'. Jane shared her honour with broadcaster Graham Norton that year, but fellow Corrie stars Kym Marsh, Michelle Keegan, Tracy Shaw, Shobna Gulati, Ryan Thomas and Sarah Lancashire have also taken home the title!

6 After three years on the Street, Jane quit the role of Leanne and headed off to the emergency services! First up, she played Nurse Samantha Docherty in drama A&E for a year, before heading to Sun Hill in 2002 to take on the role of PC Gemma Osbourne, the first lesbian officer in The Bill. "It was quite challenging – it's nerve-racking enough kissing a male actor, especially if you don't know him well," said Jane at the time. "I was so nervous. Mind you, it wasn't tongues down the throat – it's never going to get too heavy before the watershed. But at least a woman doesn't have stubble!"

8 Leanne's shock pregnancy by Steve McDonald a couple of years ago paved the way for Jane to open up about a personal loss – the miscarriage of her third child. "I kind of feel in a good place to say it, but I actually did lose a baby a couple of years ago," explained the actress. "So Leanne's pregnancy does make me quite sad. I've been asked the inevitable questions over and over – 'Would you have another baby?' – and I just feel now that it's a good time to say that it is close to my heart."

9 There's a special bond between Jane and her on-screen sister Georgia Taylor (Toyah). Despite both coming and going from Corrie, the girls have remained best mates throughout. Georgia tells a story about their first evening out together: "I remember we went to Pizza Express. I'd never been there before, and I thought it was posh! Jane had been working as an actress since she was 11 and had her own car, and I thought that she was the bee's knees. I even copied what she ordered!" Awww.

10 After having lost her dad in 2008, Jane says he never got to meet her younger son, Sam. But weirdly, her older son Harry thought his grandad was someone else. "He thinks Ken Barlow is his grandfather because he sees me with Bill [Roache] so often," joked Jane in 2010, when Leanne was married to Peter. "He must associate them somehow, which is funny as Bill looks nothing like my dad."

The InsideSoap guide

With Corrie's Sally and EastEnders' Mick likely to be behind bars this week, we're giving them the benefit of our experience in TV incarcerations. Here's our essential list of 'DO's' and 'DON'Ts' after that prison door slams shut...

DO! get used to your cellmate

Your cellmate is the perfect person to show you the ropes, explain when the gruel is served up, and point out which fellow prisoners not to be caught alone with in a dark corner. But that's not the only reason for getting accustomed to their face – because, chances are, they'll only follow you back home once you're out! From Corrie's poor Deirdre Rachid with Tyrone's mum Jackie Dobbs, to EastEnders' Phil and his old cellmate Aidan Maguire, soap history is littered with old lags who wanted to lay close to their old roomies. In fact, the only way Emmerdale's Lachlan could break his chains to poor Gerry Roberts was to cut ties... for good!

DO! look out for a familiar face

While your cellmate is set to become your new bestie, don't forget your old friends. Well, actually, you can't – as they're probably in with you! Corrie's Gail was shocked to be shackled up with toxic Tracy, while a few years later

Peter bumped into old Jim McDonald inside, so he did! Even if you've never met before, soap histories run deep – through his cellmate Luke Browning, EastEnders' Max found a kindred spirit in his lust for revenge on Walford, teaming up with Luke's dad, evil James Willmott-Brown!

DO! serve your time

If the judge growls "You are sentenced to however-many years in prison", take it on the chin and enjoy your soap holiday, for goodness' sake. What good comes from trying to escape? Corrie's Anna Windass just ended up back inside after a few days hiding in a bush, Emmerdale's Adam Barton has been on the run ever since scarpering, leaving his brother to seduce his wife, while Hollyoaks' Ryan Knight ended up dead at the bottom of a river. Just sit tight, enjoy the prison library, and you'll be out as soon as the storyline needs you, people!

# Hide to life inside!

DON'T! cancel those important engagements!

Births, deaths and marriages? All those major life milestones can still be enjoyed while you're doing time, so don't put them off! Emmerdale's Charity popped out baby Moses while she was banged up. Andy Sugden, punch drunk on love obviously, married Jo Stiles while in the nick – while Fiz and John Stape also tied the knot when he was inside. As for deaths, prison can be a dangerous place, you know. EastEnders' Cindy Beale and Hollyoaks' Becca Dean both met their maker before their release dates, while Walford legend Arthur Fowler and Emmerdale's Joanie Dingle both popped their clogs mere hours after being released.

get too fond of your face!

In soap, you normally get banged up for a crime you didn't commit, but there's no point in taking the moral high-ground. Keep your head down and your nose out, or it'll only end up with you being punched in the face. Corrie's Fiz dobbed in a fellow inmate for dealing drugs, receiving a beating for her troubles. Emmerdale's Aaron had a terrible time at the hands of a nasty bully – getting himself hooked on drugs to escape the fear. Meanwhile, even Albert Square's Martin sported a set of bruised ribs when wife Stacey visited him after he was banged up for a short period.

DON'T!

stop paying your lawyer!

Ah, the wonders of the soap legal system! It works a little bit differently from the real-world legal system, you see, so just make sure you keep someone on the payroll to constantly keep an eye on whether your sentence can suddenly and conveniently be overturned. After all, where would Corrie's

Tracy be now if that forensic expert who testified at her murder trial hadn't later turned out to be dodgy? Or how about EastEnders' Stacey, who confessed to the murder of Archie Mitchell, was sent down for it, but then somehow managed to successfully appeal and magically walked free mere weeks later?

Emmerdale's Lydia Hart

...faces your questions!

Loveable Lydia is right at home at the heart of the madcap Dingle family, but is Karen Blick willing to lift the lid on life as soap's number-one stuffed-parrot-lover?

“Would you say that you're anything like Lydia in real life?”

I think I'm more similar to Lydia in real life than I'd be happy to admit to myself! I denied it for a long time, and then my husband said, “You can be so like Lydia!” I'm keen on things being tidy, and I am quite an avid cleaner, so there are some similarities there. I'm not as blunt as Lydia is – I'd prefer to think I have a bit more of a filter, and I can be less socially awkward.

“We are all rooting for Lydia and Sam to get their dream wedding. What sort of ceremony do you think they should have?”

A big Dingle wedding! She'll have to drink from the Dingle welly – although Lydia will disinfect it beforehand.

Doing that isn't something you relish, but the symbolism of it is something that'd mean a lot to Lydia. I know how they film that, so I don't feel too bad about doing it – you have to drink out of it, though they put a liner in there!

“Do you own birds in real life, and are you interested in taxidermy?”

Well-suited: Sam and Lydia have won viewers' hearts

I can say, hand on heart, that I don't own any birds outside of Emmerdale – and I've never been interested in taxidermy! I'm more keen on live animals, if I'm honest. I like the ones that are still alive! I love Steve the parrot, though.

People have – pardon the pun – really taken him under their wing. Whenever I am out and about, people ask if Steve is with me. The real Steve the parrot bit Dominic Brunt [who plays Paddy], when we were filming. They had to re-film it because there was an expletive from Dom!

“How much would someone have to pay you to tackle a deep clean of the Dingle homestead?”

I reckon that Lydia would do it for free – but I definitely wouldn't fancy it. They could pay me a lot of money, and then I'd hire a company to do it properly. I tend to do ‘It'll do’ cleaning, whereas Lydia has high standards.

Giving it some welly: Karen is keen for Lydia to take on the Dingle family tradition

Parrot fashion: Steve and Lydia have ruffled feathers

“Where is your favourite place to film on the Emmerdale set?”

Outside in the village, on Main Street, when the sun is shining, it's glorious. The village is beautiful, and on a day when the sun is out, and everyone is outside, morale tends to be really high. Those are moments when I kind of take it in a little bit and think, 'Wow!' As a Yorkshire woman, it makes me really proud to be playing the part and to be in Emmerdale. The village is so iconic, and the attention to detail is great – I really love it.

“What did you get up to on your last day off work?”

Sadly, I think it was cleaning the house! I watched a film and had a takeaway – just normal everyday things. I enjoy running, so I do that when I can. I did the London Marathon earlier this year, so I always attempt to sneak in a run on my days off. I usually run on the moors, or by the river. I never thought I'd be a runner, but I trained for a half-marathon four years ago, and built up from a quarter of a mile to 26.2 miles, which is incredible. I like running because then I can eat more cake!

“If you won the lottery, what sort of thing would you do with the money?”

I'd have a really gorgeous holiday with sandy beaches and blue seas. I'd give lots of it away to help my family and friends, and I'd buy a big house with

Village people: Karen adores working in the idyllic Dales setting a swimming pool. I'd love to go to the Dominican Republic – I went to Hawaii a few years ago, and I'd love to visit there again, as it was amazing. The sand was just how you see it in picture postcards, it was a gorgeous colour.

“If Lydia could be best friends with anyone in the village, who would you like her to chum up with?”

She has quite a nice friendship with Bernice, and Sam Giles [who plays her] and I have had some lovely scenes together. They are two quite quirky, comedic characters. I also really enjoy working with Emma Atkins, who plays Charity. She's a great comedic actress.

“Do you think that Lydia has what it takes to be the new Dingle matriarch while Lisa's away?”

I think she does. Lydia's a lot stronger than she may come across at first. She's been through a lot in her life, including losing her husband, and his affair. She admires the strength of the other Dingle women, and we'll see that she also has that ability to stay strong in a crisis – and bend the law if things aren't as they should be! She's always on the side of right, morally, but that doesn't mean legally. That's a Dingle trait.

“Do you have any hobbies?”

...asks reader Carrie Smith from Windsor

I have taken up ballroom dancing, through Lydia! I did classes for some of her scenes, and now I've graduated from the beginner class to the intermediate! I started to learn as it was Lydia's backstory – she was a ballroom dancer 20-odd years ago. It's really enjoyable. I love the quickstep, and if you get the kicks and flicks right in the jive, it looks as if you're pretty good at it!

You'd think they'd have their hands full, having both given birth to baby girls recently, but soap stars Helen Flanagan (Corrie's Rosie Webster) and Jacqueline Jossa (EastEnders' Lauren Branning) are thrusting ahead with new projects. Helen has launched her own line in maternity lingerie with a set of photos taken while she was nine months pregnant with her daughter – after whom the range, Delilah Ruby, is named.

"I've been working on this since the start of the year," explains Helen. "I wanted to create a brand that combined my passion of being a mother and breastfeeding, alongside my love of lingerie and modelling."

Meanwhile, Jacqueline has launched a new Instagram account (@jacsmumtum) to help other new mums get back to fitness.

"I'm on a journey to get in better shape, find a better lifestyle and to sort out my nutrition," says the star. "It's not about being stick thin – it's about feeling happy and sexy and maintaining a healthy lifestyle!"

FIELD OF DREAMS

HAVE STEVE AND NICKY FINALLY GOT THE HANG OF LIFE IN THE COUNTRY? NOT QUITE YET, REVEALS JACK DEE...

Best policy:
Steve finally gets an honest
builder

In the first series of Bad Move, it didn't take long for former Leeds residents Steve and Nicky to discover that life in the countryside wasn't quite the calm, peaceful existence they'd pictured. As the show returns for a second series this week, there are signs that the couple have started to get their heads around how things work in their new village – but they're still playing catch-up...

"They're getting the measure of the place," reveals Jack

Dee, who co-writes the show and plays Steve. "At the end of series one, their house was quite badly damaged by Grizzo, the local rock star, coming to their party in a helicopter. It's still not been fixed yet, they've not found a builder who can do the work. And they've got moths, so all their nice clothes have had to be thrown out. So everything's the same, but a bit worse!"

Launching a new comedy can be an exceptionally tricky business, but Bad Move had the advantage of being scheduled between episodes of Coronation Street, which is one of the best slots ITV has to offer – though that, of course, came with its own pressures.

"We survived the challenge of being in a Corrie sandwich, as they call it," chuckles Jack. "The pressure is absolutely huge – it's very different from writing something that goes out late at night on another channel. To be able to make something that was well-received by a lot of people who watch Coronation Street as well as other people who've come in to watch it, was gratifying. I think we've pushed it further in this series, because we've understood better where we can go with it now."

While the show puts in every effort to make Steve and Nicky's country home look as unappealing as possible on screen, Jack lets us into a little-known secret: the real-life location that they use is actually rather lovely.

"I shouldn't be saying this because it goes against the whole feeling of the show, but being up in Yorkshire is fantastic," he shares. "It's a beautiful place to film – at times it's quite a challenge to make the house look just as depressing as it does!"

And although his alter ego in the show is quickly realising just how much of a city slicker he is, in real life Jack really enjoys getting away to the country – and has also discovered some new talents.

“IT'S QUITE A CHALLENGE TO MAKE THE HOUSE LOOK SO DEPRESSING”

Knit-wit:
Matt and Meena deal with a new look

“On a couple of occasions I’ve been accused of being more like the character Matt than like Steve,” he says. “I’m very pleased that I’ve grown figs in my garden. My daughter showed me how to make fig leaf ice cream which I was very pleased with. I was in the edit talking about it and they were looking at me going, ‘Who’s come in here? Who is this person?’ They really don’t expect that!”

HOUSE PROUD

LAUREN SIMON AND RACHEL LUGO BRING US UP TO SPEED ON THE CHESHIRE DRAMA...

There was drama by the bucketload last week, when new housewives Hanna Miraftab and Perla Navia made their debut – notably for Rachel. Inside TV caught up with Rachel and Lauren to find out what this new dynamic will mean for the show...

“It makes it very interesting and it should be great to watch, but it’s been emotional for all sorts of reasons,” says Rachel. “They’re both very confident – they stand their ground, and they’re not shy! I’m being a bit more emotional – you see a totally different side of me.”

“I think Rachel’s had a tough time with one of the new girls, and it’s hard to go head-to-head on certain subjects,” adds Lauren. “And if they watch the show, they already know what we’re like. It’s a bit like playing poker, isn’t it? You know your opponent!”

Hopefully there will be slightly happier times for everyone this week as Dawn celebrates her 45th birthday, which of course means a spectacular party.

“We’ve had a lot of fun on the show,” Lauren assures us. “I’ve made some amazing friends, and we go to the races all the time!”

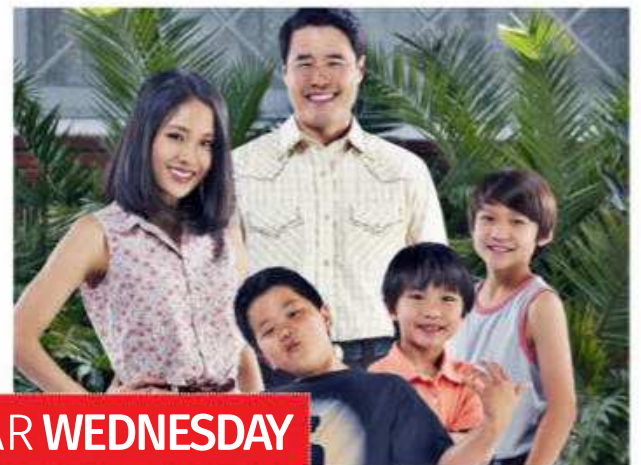

“Although we do have arguments, and we don’t all see eye-to-eye, we do have a lot of fun in between the tears,” confirms Rachel. “We’re making great memories!”

Fun and feuds: Rachel has had it all on the show

FRESH OFF THE BOAT | 5STAR WEDNESDAY

SOMETIMES KEEPING UP

with our favourite shows can be hard work – 5STAR originally abandoned this US sitcom halfway through its second year. Eventually it returned and now we’re hoping they don’t pull anything similar with this third season. Fresh Off The Boat follows the Huang family after their move from the Chinatown district of Washington DC to Orlando, Florida. We can’t get enough of the brilliant Constance Wu as fearsome matriarch Jessica, trying to achieve the American Dream while ensuring her children don’t lose touch with their Taiwanese heritage.

THRILL OF THE CHASE

JODIE COMER AND SANDRA OH STAR IN A NEW CAT-AND-MOUSE DRAMA...

After watching Phoebe Waller-Bridge's brilliant, BAFTA-winning black comedy Fleabag, we were very excited to see what she would do next – but we most definitely weren't expecting her follow-up project to be an international espionage thriller.

In Killing Eve, deskbound MI5 officer Eve Polastri is bored by her job, and frustrated that her superiors aren't acting on her hunch that a hired killer they're trying to track is female – so she decides to do a little investigating of her own.

"When you first see Eve, she has a very good relationship with her husband Niko, a good job and great colleagues," explains former Grey's Anatomy star Sandra Oh, who plays her. "Everything is fine with her life, but she just happens to be a character who wants more."

Eve finds this new lease of life in the hunt for Villanelle (Doctor Foster's Jodie Comer), a talented and enigmatic assassin living a carefree life.

"Between the two of them, there is a mutual fascination and admiration for the other," reveals Jodie. "I think Villanelle's ego goes through the roof when she finds out there is a lady at MI5 on a search to find her! But there is something that is missing in Villanelle that is within Eve, and vice versa."

Playing the role of a multilingual assassin gave Jodie a lot of challenges to get stuck into, and she admits that some aspects of the role did not come easily.

"I've got really bad co-ordination!" shares the star. "I'm sure there are out-takes of me walking on to set with the gun the wrong way round! But it was something I'd never done before, so it was exciting."

Happy together: Married couple Niko and Eve

HIGH PROFILE

ALICE LEVINE AND MAYA JAMA HOST A NEW SOCIAL MEDIA REALITY SHOW...

Anyone who's active on social media knows that it's a tricky environment to navigate: what information do you reveal about yourself? What makes a good profile picture? Should you pretend to be something you're not?

This new reality show hosted by Alice Levine and Maya Jama takes that to the next level, as the contestants interact entirely through a bespoke social media platform called The Circle – and if they're judged unfavourably by their fellow players, they risk being 'blocked' from the game.

"I'm a social media and reality TV addict, so combining the two is pretty much my dream outcome," grins Maya. "It's a fascinating social experiment. We're all on social media – you tend to be the odd one out if you're not – so it'll be interesting to see how it plays out. When the players are on a mission to be popular, will they be their real selves or a fake version?"

"It's about the judgements we make and the versions of ourselves we put forward," adds Alice. "A lot of reality shows aren't asking those questions, which is why this one appeals to me. It'll be fascinating to see how people curate their lives, and how quickly those who think they are master manipulators get rumbled. Whereas people who think, 'I'm just going to be me' – as we've seen from reality shows in the past – often have the best game plan of all as it's the easiest thing to maintain..."

DOCTORS ON CALL

CHRISTIAN JESSEN AND SARA KAYAT TELL US WHY THEY'RE TAKING TO THE STREETS...

Dr Christian Jessen and Dr Sara Kayat continue their quest to bring medical support to communities across the UK, as they go to Southampton's student heartlands this week. Inside TV asked the duo about their experiences...

"There's been so much in the press about how overworked GPs are," Dr Christian tells us. "That has a negative impact on patients who put off seeing them. It's sad the number of times that I hear, 'I didn't feel it was worth bothering my GP'."

"A lot of people hide these issues for so long and it eats away at them," agrees Dr Sara. "It's no longer about the physical issue – it's more about the psychological issue associated with it. Being able to open up about it is often just that release valve that people need!"

Twelve hours may not seem long to treat a community with varying needs, but Sara and Christian reveal that they made the most of their time.

"Even though it was quite pressured, we tried to see as many people as possible," recalls Sara. "We still got a reasonable chunk of time."

"It's quality over quantity, always," nods Christian. "Some cases were quick and simple, others needed longer – it was flexible like that."

TATTOO FIXERS: EXTREME | E4 MONDAY

SHOCK TREATMENT

THE NEW TATTOO FIXERS TEAM FACES ITS BIGGEST CHALLENGES TO DATE...

There's a change to the line-up of the Tattoo Fixers team this week as newcomers (and brothers) Pash and Uzzi join Sketch, Alice and receptionist Paisley for a new series – where they'll be faced with some of the most extreme cases of bad body art ever committed to flesh. Well, we say, 'Art'...

Cover up: Uzzi is ready to fix your mistakes

Right then – how 'extreme' are we talking here?

Sketch Watching the little cutaways in the first episode is enough to let you know that it's going to be a major series! You know when they do the little montage of reaction shots? When I sat down to watch it, I was like, "Oh, God!" So yeah, it's pretty extreme.

Pash and Uzzi, what are you bringing to the team?

Pash Muscles!

Uzzi From what we've done already, bringing friendliness was a priority.

Paisley I think you're being really humble. These boys are very, very talented and they've brought a lot to the team. They've got good banter, they're really good tattooists – big yourself up a bit, man!

Uzzi We specialise in realism – realistic, stylistic tattoos.

Sketch Which is good because Alice and I don't – Jay was realism, so it's good that these guys fill that hole.

Does having new blood on the team spur you all on?

Sketch Yeah, it really just pushes us all to be that little bit more creative when it comes to the pitches. After two years of doing it, I kind of know what Alice is going to draw, I knew what Jay would draw, whereas now I don't know what these guys are going to do! If I want to try to win this, I've got to be out there with my drawing...

Is it still very competitive?

Uzzi Oh, definitely.

Pash We've chucked each

GRAND DESIGNS | Channel 4 WEDNESDAY

BUILT TO LAST

KEVIN McCLOUD IS BACK FOR A BRAND NEW SERIES OF ARCHITECTURAL AMBITION...

“The process of sharing this experience with people – of them creating something from scratch – is really powerful,” enthuses Kevin McCloud, as Inside TV sits down with him to chat about the upcoming 19th series of Grand Designs – the show featuring ambitious architectural projects.

“If you've ever knitted something, or made a piece of furniture, or even cooked a meal,” continues the presenter, “the pleasure you get from that process is fantastic. Building a house is probably the biggest single act of creativity most of us will ever go through.”

Whether you love to see projects of great scale come other's sketch pads off the table a few times before!

Uzzi And if somebody wants something pretty, Alice has already won it!

Alice But Sketch can put anything down and brainwash someone into getting it. He could say, "You really need a zombie goose" and they'd be like, "Well actually, I hadn't considered it, but I think that maybe I really do..."

to fruition, or bizarre plans falling to pieces when they come smacking into reality, viewers are unlikely to be disappointed by the subjects of this series – and we begin with a couple trying to renovate a mini-castle that's been in ruins ever since it was gutted by fire 200 years ago...

"It's a tiny castle – it only has two bedrooms!" recalls Kevin. "With a tiny sitting room and a tiny kitchen, it's really a folly. It's an 18th-century folly which is rebuilt, and it turns out so well – it's a lovely miniature example of conservation and repair work."

CHERRY HEALEY GOES TO EXTREME LENGTHS TO SEE WHETHER HAPPINESS LIES UNDER THE KNIFE...

Cherry Healey would be the first to admit that she's not as happy with her body as she used to be. With cosmetic surgery becoming more mainstream, she's wondering if she'd feel better after a little nip and a tuck – so, being an investigative film-maker, the obvious course of action was for her to meet people going under the knife, and the surgeons operating on them...

"All of us making this series found it difficult because we didn't quite know what we thought," Cherry tells Inside TV. "We kept thinking, 'It's empowering, it's fine', and then see another story and think, 'This is really sad'. Can you be a feminist and believe in equality and yet reinforce the idea that you have to pretend to be younger?"

The three-part series absolutely does not pull its punches: this week's opener follows 28-year-old Keisha on an all-inclusive package trip to Turkey for a Brazilian Butt Lift – and the cameras capture some of the operation...

"I felt that was deeply important – absolutely critical," vows Cherry. "I didn't really know what to expect, and I found it horrifying. There's nothing about it that's not brutal."

Every year there's a strange week or two of Strictly limbo, when the celebrities have been paired with their professional partners and are busy trying to nail the rudimentaries of the 'salsambcha', while fans are anxiously awaiting the start of the series proper for the real action to get going.

Fortunately this year we have a special show to help us fill that gap, as some of Strictly's brightest stars from previous series share their memories of taking part and reveal some tantalising insider secrets.

Alongside all the people you'd bet good money on taking part in something like this (Jeremy Vine, Russell Grant) are some surprise signings like Nancy Dell'Olio. We didn't think she'd even remember she was on it.

HOW THE VICTORIANS BUILT BRITAIN | Channel5 9PM

Michael Buerk brings the series a little closer to home tonight in a very literal sense, as he looks into how the Victorians were responsible for creating the modern home as we know it. He'll be examining how the Victorian era saw massive growth in housebuilding, and how the development of 'town gas' from coal transformed British homes from dark and dingy into light and warm. They also revolutionised the kitchen thanks to gas-powered cookers, giving people the ability to cook more complex dishes in their own homes and helping to establish the Sunday roast as a British staple.

The personal touch

We're five episodes into what has become the BBC's biggest drama launch in over a decade and we've not heard a single note of I Have Nothing.

Predictable jokes about this obviously not being a remake of the Whitney Houston movie aside, if you haven't managed to catch this series then get yourself to iPlayer and binge it immediately, before someone spoils it. We haven't heard such good word-of-mouth for a show in a long time, and the hype is definitely worth it.

It looks as though David's theories about a conspiracy at the heart of the government could be true, as he discovers when he looks closer into Julia's political dealings – but before he can take action, he's faced with an accusation...

Paris is burning

CELEBRITY ISLAND WITH BEAR GRYLLS | Channel 4 9PM

It's not even been a week and already someone's quit. So how are the other celebs fairing after Bear Grylls dumped them on an island? Spoiler – not so well. Hurrah! Because that means drama for the rest of us. It seems Paris is at the centre of everyone's problems. Not because she's not an actual celebrity, but because she's not pulling her weight. She has an argument with Pete as they try to keep a fire alight and James – who has an old injury which impacts on his ability to communicate – struggles to keep his ongoing annoyance under wraps. The group ends up giving her an ultimatum...

FEAR THE WALKING DEAD | E4 10PM

The season is almost upon us – that's the season of scary films and things that go bump in the night. So grab your pumpkin spice lattes and settle in for the zombie-filled finale you've all been waiting for, as the undead take over, swarming the base while the group tries to rescue Griselda, Liza and Nick. But will they escape bite-free? Don't fret though, there's a further four series still to come.

KRYPTON | E4 9PM

Tina Turner, sorry, you were wrong. We do need another hero, even if they have odd names like Jayna-Zod and Seg. Tonight on the Superman prequel, the latter finds a window into Krypton's past while in the heart of Black Zero.

THE ONLY WAY IS ESSEX | ITVBe 9PM

Can you believe there have been a staggering 23 series of The Only Way Is Essex? How else would we fill the Big Brother house or the jungle? They've even managed to get on Strictly! And the drama isn't letting up in tonight's visit...

PADDINGTON STATION 24/7 | Channel 5 9PM

Track and trace

The third run of the documentary capturing life and work at one of London's busiest stations opens in a slow mid-afternoon session on a quiet Tuesday, which is as clear an indicator as you could wish for that something is about to go deeply, horribly wrong. Sure enough, the CCTV cameras pick up a passenger jumping off platform 10 and running along the tracks. Immediately all the trains coming in or out of the station have to be stopped, and staff face a race against time to stop him before he reaches a live rail.

It's far from the only problem the team is facing, as customer support agent Tom discovers the refurbished ticket machines are experiencing some issues, causing chaos for passengers.

DON'T Miss!

Case in point

CHASE THE CASE | BBC1 2.15PM

Dan Walker appears to be slowly but surely staging a takeover of BBC1 – not only is he a regular on the Breakfast sofa and the presenter of Football Focus, but now he's adding 'game show host' to his ever-expanding CV. In Chase The Case, five players each start the game with a briefcase containing an amount from £0 to £5,000, and by answering general knowledge questions correctly, they'll be able to gain information about how much is in their opponents' cases – which, in turn, they can use to deduce how much is in their own. But they'll need to be cunning with their intel...

NAZI TREASURE HUNTERS | More4 9PM

Is this possibly the best title of any show currently airing on TV? We think it might be (although we do feel obliged to point out that they are hunters of Nazi treasure, not treasure hunters who are Nazis, just to avoid any awkward misunderstandings). In tonight's episode, the team searches for the priceless arts looted by Hermann Göring: a mission that takes them to Spain, the US and Switzerland.

MASTERCHEF AUSTRALIA | W 7PM

Another week of MasterChef action commences as Gordon Ramsay drops by the kitchen to set the contestants a British Mystery Box challenge. He'll be back on Thursday too, to oversee the cooking of a three-course meal for 50 guests.

MODERN WHEELS OR CLASSIC STEALS | Dave 8PM

In this new series, presenters Rebecca Jackson and Elo go head-to-head to convince a car buyer to agree with their choice of new vehicle, with Rebecca pushing modern cars and Elo going classic. What will VW Golf driver Kerri go for?

THE GREAT BRITISH BAKE OFF | Channel 4 8PM

Sweet nothings

A wise woman once told us that a spoonful of sugar helps the medicine go down (in a most delightful way, no less), so we'd advise the bakers to keep their ingredients close to hand for desserts week this week: if they get a stinging critique from Paul or Prue, maybe a spoonful of the sweet stuff might make them feel slightly better about it.

This week's signature challenge requires the bakers to whip up a meringue (for which they have our deepest sympathy – our last attempt at meringues left us scraping burnt sugar off an oven tray for days), as well as a wobbly technical challenge and a show-stopper requiring feats of chocolatiering that would make even Willy Wonka wince.

WANDERLUST | BBC1 9PM

Joy and Alan have got the unenviable task of explaining to their kids about their new, more open relationship this week. Full credit to them for attempting to keep things calm and casual, but we're not entirely sure that, "very much as we are now, but with some extra sex outside the usual" is the best way to sell the concept to your offspring. Once that's out of the way, the whole "just sex, no emotional attachment" thing comes up against its first major hurdle when Joy happens to run into Lawrence (Paul Kaye), her first love, in the pharmacy. Looks as if she's about to be majorly tested...

CONSTANTINE | Fox 9PM

A bit of a non-traditional offering from DC Comics here, given that the title character John Constantine is actually an exorcist and supernatural detective. Stranger still is that this show, which only lasted one season, originally aired in the US in 2014 – which means you’ve probably seen the character turn up already in Legends of Tomorrow and Arrow. Up to speed? Us neither. But it’s monsters and demons, so we’re on board.

HARROW | Alibi 9PM

You think your job is bad? Spare a thought for Harrow when a dead man on his autopsy table wakes up and takes him hostage. As if that’s not bad enough, Dass finds that Harrow has destroyed evidence from Quinn’s murder.

SUPERNATURAL | E4 10.10PM

There’s definitely a creepy theme to this evening’s telly, isn’t there? Our final spooky selection is the finale of Supernatural’s 13th season. It’s definitely unlucky for some as the brothers are tested in the ultimate battle – again.

CASUALTY 24/7 | Channel 5 9PM

Accidents will happen

No, it's not a new channel dedicated solely to the BBC's long-running hospital drama. This new documentary series follows the team that works at Barnsley's A&E department, which never closes its doors. And while we've been having a heatwave, the opening episode takes us back to a simpler, colder time and the various injuries that snow can bring.

Four-year-old Teddy (he's a boy, not an actual teddy) gashes his head while out on his sledge, which has an impact on Dr Jane, a mum herself. The snow also spells bad news for pensioner Brian, who breaks his ankle while out walking his dog. Fortunately, there's plenty of Yorkshire tea on hand to keep everyone warm and happy!

Laugh in the first degree

DEFENDING THE GUILTY | BBC2 10PM

Based on the best-selling book by Alex McBride, this new sitcom shows a very different side to the courtrooms we're used to seeing on television. There's a lot more laughs, for a start, which is just as well given that it's a comedy – this first episode was so well received by the BBC that bosses ordered a full series immediately. You'll have to wait until 2019 for that, but in the meantime, meet pupil barrister Will, played by Will Sharpe, who has a positive outlook on life and the job he hopes to land. Then he meets his pupilmaster Caroline (Katherine Parkinson) who has a very different approach...

THIS IS US | More4 11.05PM

Uh oh – it would appear that This Is Us has been shunted back another hour in the schedules, which does make us worry a little bit for its future on More4. Still, for the time being let's just focus on where we currently are with the Pearsons: Kevin's out of rehab and staying with Rebecca, despite things being a little strained between them right now. Kate is shopping for wedding dresses, and Randall, at a loose end, goes delving into William's past.

911 | Sky Witness 9PM

It's Valentine's Day! And, given the nature of this show, it looks like romance and disaster will be going hand in hand as a marriage proposal goes very wrong. Let's hope that things work out better for Abby and Buck on their first date.

TASKMASTER | Dave 9PM

Kerry gets 'goal hungry' in her bid to excite Alex (careful) for one of tonight's challenges, while Jessica tries to convince Greg she can instill fear with her voice. And why exactly does Rhod need a very tall ladder and a picture of Greg?

MICHAEL PALIN IN NORTH KOREA | Channel 5 9PM

DON'T Miss!

Palin in comparison

Rumours of what happens in North Korea – famously one of the most secretive countries in the world – are plentiful, but hard facts are understandably scarce. That's why it's so impressive that Michael Palin has, after two years of complex negotiations, managed to get permission to make this two-part documentary about the country and its people – albeit under supervision.

Starting out in the Chinese capital of Beijing, Michael makes his way to Pyongyang by rail, and his early impressions from the train window are that the empty roads are "rather strange", as is the fact that lunch is accompanied by propaganda videos. But it's the wake-up call after his first night that truly feels extraordinary...

DON'T Miss!

Law and orders

TO CATCH A SERIAL KILLER - WITH TREVOR McDONALD | ITV 9PM

In the latest documentary from ITV's Crime And Punishment strand, Sir Trevor examines the story of Steve Fulcher, who managed to get serial killer Christopher Halliwell to confess to two separate murders. But the way in which he gained Halliwell's confidence breached police procedure, and caused serious debate about whether this was an inspired piece of detective work or a serious abuse of police power. In the film, Steve explains why he feels that his actions were necessary in order to gain justice for the victims' families, but barrister Sebastian Gardiner offers a different view.

INSTINCT | Sky Witness 9PM

Fun fact – Alan Cumming was considered for the lead role in Doctor Who when the BBC brought it back in 2005. It's hard not to imagine him being brilliant in any part, and Instinct is no exception.

A murder investigation turns into a race against time when Dylan and Lizzie discover that the unidentified woman wasn't the intended victim. They have to unravel the motive of the killer and work out who was supposed to die in order to save her from being next...

HYUNDAI MERCURY PRIZE 2018 LIVE... | BBC4 9PM

We're peering over our glasses at the list of nominations for album of the year, and we think we recognise a couple of them. Anyway, album of the year is a bit early considering Cher doesn't release Dancing Queen until 28 September.

Take the high road

We've said it before, and we'll say it again – we love Channel 5's Friday night travel shows. This one doesn't have any celebrities in it, or a jazzy showtune at the end, but it does have lots of fascinating history and the rather attractive

Rob Bell to help impart it – as he uncovers the rail lines that closed from the 1960s onwards, bringing him to Scotland.

Local fishing and whisky industries used a route from Elgin to Portsoy to ship their wares, and his journey brings him into contact with both products. Once again, Channel 5 has a series that shows the absolute beauty of the country, with some stunning scenery and a general feel-good factor that makes staying in a treat...

DON'T Miss!

History repeating

ANCIENT INVISIBLE CITIES | BBC2 9PM

It's the final episode of this all-too short history series and presenter Michael Scott turns his very detailed attention to Istanbul. He once again uses the most cutting-edge modern technology to rebuild the past, combining laser scans and computer graphics to reveal treasures long lost. He visits Hagia Sophia, a former cathedral and mosque in Turkey – now a museum, he's able to determine just how it's survived over 1,500 years. He even braves the somewhat pungent water in the converted cistern that supplied the Emperor's Great Palace. All in the name of enlightenment...

THE GOOD COP | Netflix

US TV star Tony Danza has a proud tradition of playing characters who are also called "Tony" (in Taxi and Who's The Boss?), which continues in this new comedy from the creator of Monk. He plays Tony Caruso Sr., a disgraced former police officer with quite the reputation, much to the distress of his son Tony Jr. (Josh Groban), a straightlaced and law-abiding detective. So guess what this odd couple do? That's right: they team up to solve crimes!

ALL STAR DRIVING SCHOOL | E4 730PM

It's crunch time for our celeb learner drivers tonight, hopefully in a figurative sense rather than a literal one, as comedian Mark Watson, singer Tallia Storm and Hollyoaks' Ruby O'Donnell (Peri) take their tests. Have they mastered the road?

CAN YOU FEEL IT - HOW DANCE MUSIC... | BBC4 10PM

Banger alert! This new series takes a look at how dance music made its way out of the clubs and into the mainstream. Tonight's opener traces the origins of the genre all the way back to disco, with contributors including David Guetta.

IN and OUT

We spin soap's revolving door...

NATHAN SUSSEX (Buster Smith, Hollyoaks)

IN He may currently be languishing in jail, having been charged with two counts of sexual abuse – but we certainly haven't seen the last of vile football coach Buster! "I can assure you that the story will be ongoing for years," says Hollyoaks' executive producer Bryan Kirkwood. "We have Buster's trial coming up, that transmits in January, and we have different journeys ahead for Ollie and Brody – the ripple effects will influence their ongoing stories and their future relationships. We're now storylining into March next year, and both characters are still living with the consequences."

MADELEINE WEST (Andrea Somers/ Dee Bliss, Neighbours)

IN Neighbours fans certainly haven't heard the last of the Andrea/Dee saga, according to the soap's executive producer, Jason Herbison! "I've always talked about it as a three-act story, but I'm now going to have to revise it to four acts as we're currently filming a new twist," he teased. "There is an end game." Winter

JOHN MICHIE (Guy Self, Holby City)

IN An exciting Holby preview has revealed that narcissistic neurosurgeon Guy Self is returning! Last seen heading into therapy after trying to take his own life, what brings Guy back to the hospital? Autumn

WILL McDONALD (Jett Palmer, Home and Away)

IN John and Marilyn's nest won't be empty for too long in the wake of Ty's departure – as it seems their son Jett is set to return to the soap! Actor Will has recently been spotted filming scenes on Palm Beach with screen parents Shane Withington (John) and Emily Symons (Marilyn) – but why is Jett back in the Bay? Early 2019

THE EX FILES!

What are the one-time stars of soap up to now?

GET WELL SOON, BABS!

EastEnders legend Dame Barbara Windsor (Peggy Mitchell) is currently recovering at home after undergoing an operation to fit a pacemaker. Her husband Scott Mitchell confirmed that she had been treated in hospital for heart complications, believed to be triggered by her Alzheimer's drugs. "Barbara was suffering from a low heart rate, which doctors thought was being caused by some of her medication," he revealed. "She was getting very dizzy and short of breath and fainted one day at home, so she had an eight-day hospital spell." Get well soon, Babs!

ADAM GETS FESTIVE

Former Emmerdale star Adam Thomas (Adam Barton) will take the stage this Christmas to star in Nativity! The Musical. He'll play the role of 'Hollywood producer' when the tour stops in Liverpool and Stoke, with former EastEnders star Charlie Brooks (Janine Butcher) taking over from him when the show gets to Nottingham. Current Walford resident Jake Wood (who plays Max) will appear in the Oxford stint of the popular festive show.

SHAYNE IN ACTION

Former Corrie star Shayne Ward (Aidan Connor) has posted some sneaky snaps of him in character for his first acting job since leaving the cobbles. Shayne will star alongside real-life fiancée Sophie Austin (formerly Hollyoaks' Lindsey Roscoe) in action movie Stairs, in which he'll play military man Will Stanton. And doesn't he look good? Fans can catch Shayne and Sophie in Stairs early next year.

THE AFTER WIFE by Cass Hunter

Aidan's life is turned upside down after the premature death of his wife Rachel. However, Rachel was a pioneering robotics scientist who has left behind a legacy which Aidan can't avoid – a gift called iRachel.

STAR CHOICE

EastEnders' Tanya Franks (Rainie)

"At the moment, I'm catching up on the fourth season of Better Call Saul, and I love it! I think it's such a fab series. I absolutely love Breaking Bad, and I reckon it's well on par with that for me, for different reasons. Mike is my favourite character. I just can't get enough of it!"

HITS & MISSES!

WHAT'S HIT THE BULLSEYE RECENTLY – AND WHAT'S FALLEN WIDE OF THE MARK?

We love bisexual solicitor Paula with her wonky hairdo and one big earring. But best is the tantalising possibility of a father-daughter love triangle – which would be a genuine first for Corrie!

Do friends – besties even – sit this close? ‘Just mates’ you say, Matty? Give over.

Party organiser Mary. We’d buy that action figure.

Fact! The more stressed Linda Carter is, the bigger the loaf of bread she likes to balance on her head.

We’d love to take a peek at Lachlan’s Fitbit. The number of steps he’ll have racked up chasing various blonde girls through the woods must have earned him his ‘March of the Penguins’ badge by now.

BULLSEYE!

The most moving scenes this week involved Hollyoaks’ Ollie and Brody, as they admitted the abuse they’d suffered at the hands of paedophile Buster, and found the strength to denounce him. Tremendous work from Aedan Duckworth and Adam Woodward – not to mention Nathan Sussex in the no-less challenging role of Buster – and a major contribution to the Break the Silence campaign.

Dr Ali in stag antlers makes us feel a bit funny in our tummy.

Whenever a life-or-death situation unfolds in Emmerdale, certain characters are activated for their skills. This week, Ross, Cain, Graham and Robert raced to save Belle. They should join forces, Avengers-style! They’d be unstoppable!

We love you, EastEnders. But this, at 8.15pm, is way too much.

As the Carters searched the Vic for Stuart in the dead of night, a whole nation screamed, as one: “Turn the bloody lights on, you idiots!”

This bit of ad-break editing gave us our biggest laugh of the week.

At last! This is the Mel we used to know: a cunning, opportunist cheat! Good to have her back!
